

Fulton Has New Pharmacy

Ribbon Cutting At Fulton's Wagner Pharmacy

The Fulton Chamber of Commerce held a ribbon cutting Wednesday for the much anticipated, new addition to Fulton's downtown, Wagner Pharmacy. Mayor Russell welcomed the new business on behalf of the City of Fulton, as did Chamber President Greg Naftzger.

"We are very happy to being a part of Fulton's business community and to developing strong relationships with our customers," said Tim Wright, owner.

The new pharmacy, located in the Fulton Commerce Center at 1000 4th Street, will be open Monday thru Friday from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, and on Saturdays from 9:00 until Noon. "The hours are just a starting point right now," Tim said. "We will adjust them as we learn what the community's needs are."

The pharmacy provides complete prescription service including, free delivery, price matching, $4 thirty-day supplies of generic prescriptions, $11 ninety-day supplies of generic prescriptions, some over-the-counter medications, and their knowledgeable experienced staff, pharmacists Dan Mikesch and Tim Wright.

Because other locations of Wagner Pharmacy carry home medical equipment, Fulton customers will also be able to order their home medical equipment right here. "If a Fulton customer has a need for in-home medical equipment," explained Tim, "we can fit them up right here and deliver the equipment the next day."

If you would like to transfer your prescriptions to Wagner Pharmacy, you can call them with your prescription number and where you are transferring from, and they will take care of the transfer for you. The phone number is 815-589-4885. If you don't know your prescription number, take you prescription bottle to the pharmacy and Wagner's staff will do the rest.

Courtesy of the Fulton Journal